Mayville boys in Stuttgart

Mayville's World Cup Adventure
 Pupils from Mayville School in Portsmouth hit the national headlines last week when they missed seeing a World Cup match in Germany because of an alleged ticket scam. Thanks to Portsmouth FC, they headed back to Germany to watch England beat Ecuador Pupils from Mayville High School had to return disappointed last week after they arrived at a stadium in Germany expecting to watch a World Cup match but the tickets had not been supplied. Following government talks with Fifa, the group of 23 were given tickets to see the England v Ecuador second round game on Sunday 25th June. Portsmouth Football Club paid for accommodation and transport costs.

Jay Francis was one of the students who made the return trip to Germany. Here is his blog of an unforgettable weekend...

Friday 23rd June

I'm on the ferry to France and it's amazing! Everyone's spirits are high, it's becoming more and more real as the journey goes on and we're all overwhelmed that we're going to see an England match. Sadly we can't get to sleep as the man opposite our group is snoring so loudly he drowns out all the 28 people in our group!

Jay and his Dad, Nigel

As the night goes on we are all slowly falling asleep one by one and as we drift into drowsiness we dream of how England will win the match on Sunday. Anyway, it's a long coach journey to Germany tomorrow so I'd better get some sleep.

Saturday 24th June

Back on the coach

We have arrived in France and for breakfast the class ate in a cosy little restaurant on the roadside. Being in France is strange because nobody understands you and you feel restricted but still we are all having fun.

The bus is nice but we have to make our own entertainment which is good and we are all happy. With only a few hours to our destination we are more excited than ever. Sleeping is not a problem and after last night we are all well and refreshed, our stomachs are full and we are smiling on our quest to see a world cup match.

Sunday 25th June

We woke up really excited - it's not every day you wake in Germany ready to see a World Cup match. Before the game we went to a park and split into two teams and played a bit of football - in front of some cameras from German TV - I guess we are celebrities this weekend!

When we headed for the stadium it really began to kick in that this was the World Cup. The atmosphere was amazing - we had our Pompey tops on and were doing our Pompey and England chants. We were sitting behind one of the goals - it was the opposite end to the goal which Beckham scored in but we could see just how it curled and swung round into the goal.

At the stadium in Stuttgart

It was amazing when he scored. Everyone stood up and cheered and were still cheering five minutes after the kick off. Ecuador had a few chances but we made it through to the next round.

Monday 26th June

We're at a service station in Dover. After the game we got back on the coach and started the journey home. We slept on the coach as everyone was really tired - but everyone's started to wake up now. Looking back to yesterday, all the boys thought it was an amazing experience - seeing Beckham score the goal and the whole atmosphere - it was once in a lifetime opportunity.

A big thank you to Pompey FC

Wessie

The good folks fight back at last. Wonderful that the children saw the match. A win makes it even better. Well done Portsmouth F.C.

Zoe

A boy who went on that trip, now goes 2 my skool. Hope u hd a gd time George August. Cu @ skool!

stephen

hey jay we just got back from france from the frence exchange and we all hope you have a great time in Germany. see you back at school

Harriet, Emily, and Oliver

Hiya Tristian, and all you other guys we hope you have a great time in Germany. ENGLAND will win!!!

i girl from mayville

did u know that mayville did not ask any of the girls to any of the match. and that girl are not allowed to play football.

Deborah Cole

The boys left Portsmouth Football Club tonight with a fond farewell from Peter Storey. He wished them well and told them that they need to make sure England wins. When asked, Jay's father Mr Francis who is accompanying the boys on the trip said that he had his football boots on the coach just in case England needed another striker!! Everyone wishes the boys, teachers and students the very best on this 'Once in a lifetime experience'

daisy simms

I think that is great because my cousin jack is now going to the Englands game instead of portugal vs iran.
